

Female "Sueis"

Their fur is as soft and fluffy as that of a Wolf Or fox, perhaps they live in cold places like Octavilla (its kinda cold in there ngl)

Think of their tails as fish fins
-females have less fins and also they are very transparent, their fins are also smaller

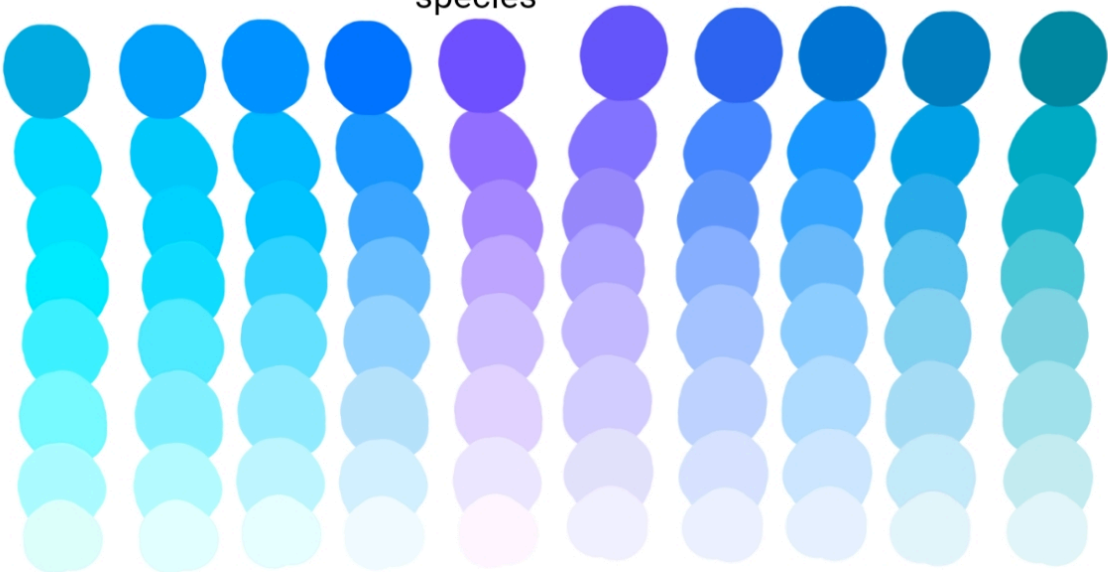

Male "Sueis"

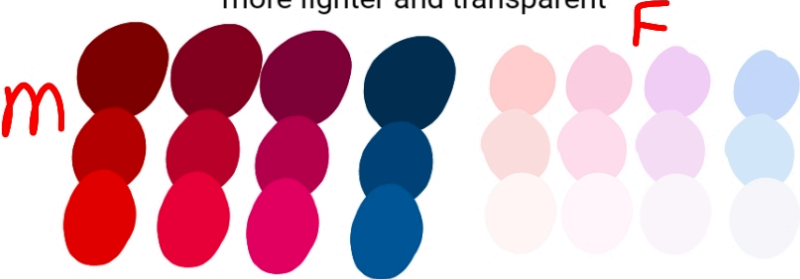

Coloration:

Suei's skin colors are ALWAYS between the blue and slightly purple, often light tones with a darker coloration for stripes, these palette is very limited because these are not really open species

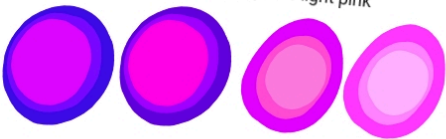

Fins:

The strong fin coloration in male sueis make good contrast with their soft blue colors, in females, the colors are way more lighter and transparent

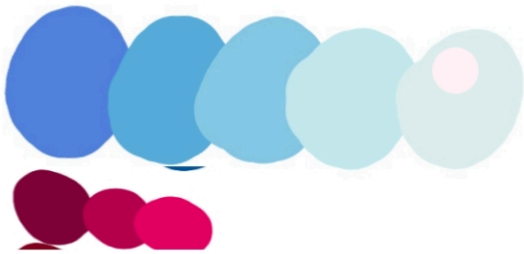

Eyes:

Eye colors range from purple to light pink

Color example

Heres an example on how to use the colors from the palette, grab a range from 5 - 7 colors for the fur and 2 -3 for fins

Babies-

A suei hatchling is probably the easiest prey in the entire OvS world, these little guys are tiny and vulnerable with no defense mechanisms other than crying for help

Since they dont have any teeth, they are constantly fed by their mother's milk

Also, at this age is nearly impossible to know if its a male or female since their "parts" cant be seem, this is why Oku mistook sukai for a girl and then when she discovered he was a boy, it was already too late

Puppies are still really vulnerable, but unlike babies who only can crawl, these puppies are active, they have a lot of energy and they run alot

Also, at this age they can eat little pieces of meat, their mother or father will break the food into small edible pieces

As teenagers, they are already capable of surviving by their own, they can hunt small prey by themselves and they have sharp senses, they are also masters at escaping predators or any form of danger

Yoo this is all for now, just stuff anyone who wants to make their own Suei oc should know

Now, if you want me to talk more about their behavior like their pack interactions, be more specific about their diet, knowing their predators and even talking about how they mate.. let me know xD
